Battle for WC places hots up

» Big-league club soccer takes a break for some 10 days after frantic spending on the last day of the transfer window on Monday, and the spotlight now shifts to 2026 World Cup qualifiers including key games for South Africa against Lesotho and Nigeria - for TAB football customers there are a range of opportunities to score big wins including two carryover Soccer 10 pools and a carryover Soccer Any 13 Xtra.

By Mark Gleeson

World Cup qualification has now reached a crucial juncture across all continents with the preliminaries closer to revealing the line-up for the finals in North America next year. Beside the three host nations (Canada, Mexico, and the United States) who are automatically in the field, a further 10 countries have booked their place already. In total, there will be 48 teams competing in the tournament, which has been expanded from the previous 32 participants, and kicks off next June. The enlarged field means nine guaranteed places for Africa at the 2026 finals, and the first qualifier from the continent should be known on Friday when Morocco hosts Niger. A home win is all Morocco need to return to the World Cup after their heroics in Qatar, where they became the first African side to get as far as the semi-finals.

This week of international football sees the seventh and eighth rounds of African qualifiers taking place with many vital games next Tuesday, notably when South Africa hosts Nigeria in Bloemfontein. On the same day, there are key clashes that will have a major bearing on the outcomes of other groups - Group F front-runners Ivory Coast go to Gabon with likely a single point separating them, while in Kinshasa, the clash between hosts Democratic Republic of Congo and Senegal could determine who goes top of Group B. The winners of the nine groups all qualify for the 2026 World Cup, plus the four best runners-up get the chance to chase one more spot through playoffs. But the African qualifiers tomorrow and Friday are filled with banker options like Algeria over Botswana and Cameroon against Swaziland. Cameroon's much bigger concern comes next Tuesday away against the Cape Verde Islands, who lead Group D and are on course to become the smallest country to qualify for the World Cup in what would be a fairy-tale story. In the South American zone, Argentina, Brazil and Ecuador have all booked their berths for the finals and Colombia, Paraguay and Uruguay are all expected to join them. Colombia are heavily fancied to beat Bolivia tomorrow night, as are Uruguay when they host Peru a few hours later. But Paraguay's home clash with Ecuador is not a foregone conclusion. Brazil are using their home clash against bottom-placed Chile to experiment with fringe players as new coach Carlo Ancelotti looks at expanding his options for next year's finals. Brazil last won a World Cup almost a quarter of a century ago and are desperate to return to the top of the pile. In European qualifiers, possible upsets look few and far between, but Poland must win in Rotterdam over the Netherlands on Thursday if they are to have any chance of winning their group. And their chances in that clash are greatly enhanced by the return of veteran Barcelona striker Robert Lewandowski. He is back in the squad after he fell out with the previous coach, who then quit in June.
