Pirates-Sundowns showdown

» The soccer action is hotting up as the business end of the season approaches with a top-of-the-table clash at Soccer City tonight plus four Champions League matches and a carryover Soccer 13, and then onto the weekend with the Nedbank Cup round of 16 and four cash-added TAB soccer bets, as well as a guaranteed R17.5-million Soccer 13 jackpot if there's only one outright winner!

By Mark Gleeson

It is only a few matches past the halfway mark of the local league season and probably too early to call tonight's top-of-the-table clash at Soccer City a title decider. But if there is to be a winner between hosts Orlando Pirates and Mamelodi Sundowns, they will stand a good chance to go on and take the Betway Premiership title.

In recent years, every time Pirates have threatened Sundowns' dominance in the league, they have been slapped back down again. The Buccaneers have had the better of Downs in cup action, but in the league the long-running champions have not encountered any real resistance. But that has all changed this season as Pirates have reaped the rewards of a superb pre-season buying spree that significantly strengthened their squad. They sit six points ahead of Sundowns in the standings, although they have played a game more.

Tonight's clash, however, is a real litmus test for them. They might be on a sequence of four successive wins, but it has been a relatively easy run for Pirates.

Sundowns, on the other hand, had to navigate their way through the group phase of the African Champions League, winning a tense game last Saturday against Mouloudia Alger to advance to the quarter-finals of the continent's premier club competition.

Hence they might be better prepared for the pressures of tonight's game, which has had to be moved from Orlando Stadium, which is too small for the expected crowd.

That side Sundowns don't possess the dominant edge they have enjoyed in recent seasons and while they are still brimming with quality, this has the makings of a fierce contest most likely to end in a draw.

Also tonight are the first four of eight first-leg playoff matches in the knockout round of the UEFA Champions League. These are contested by the 16 clubs that finished ninth to 24th in the league stage with eight going forward to the round of 16.

A full house of away wins looks on the cards tonight. Atletico Madrid are expected to win away at Belgium's Club Brugge, as are Newcastle, who make the long trip to Qarabaq in Azerbaijan.

Last season's runners-up Inter Milan should win at Bodo/Glimt, even if the Norwegian team beat Manchester City a month ago, and Bayer Leverkusen of Germany have enough quality to come away from their trip to Olympiakos in Greece with a lead for next week's return leg.

In the English Premier League, top-placed Arsenal are away at bottom-of-the-log Wolves with a chance to extend their lead over Manchester City to seven points, albeit then having played a game

The Gunners survived a late fightback in the reverse fixture at the Emirates Stadium two months ago with a 94th-minute own goal sealing a 2-1 victory for Mikel Arteta's side.

Arsenal might have lost just one of their last 11 EPL games, but an underwhelming 1-1 draw at Brentford last week allowed City to close the gap at the summit to just four points with 12 games left to play, including a tricky trip for the London club to the Etihad in April.

City's next game is home to Newcastle on Saturday and they then appear to have a fairly gentle run of fixtures over the next month.

R2 TO PLAY
ACE WEEKEND POOLS

Fri 20 Feb - $10 V3

M1 Richards Bay vs AmaZulu: Here's a must-play Friday night bet. TAB is pumping a R200,000 bonus into the pool, which should total R2 million and could pay a bomb! The first Nedbank Cup last-16 clash of the weekend gets the bet going and it should be a thriller. Richards Bay have avoided defeat in eight of their last 10 games in all competitions and AmaZulu have won seven of their last 10. Richards Bay won the last meeting between them 2-0 at home, their third win in the last seven clashes with two victories for AmaZulu. They are separated by only a point in the Betway Premiership table.

M2 Fortuna Sittard vs SBV Excelsior: Sittard have lost six of their last 10 games in all competitions, while Excelsior have failed to win in seven of their last nine Eredivisie fixtures. Sittard and Excelsior are 11th and 12th respectively with 26 points apiece in the Dutch premier league. Excelsior did win the last meeting between them 1-0 last October but are away now.

M3 Rodez AF vs Montpellier: Rodez are unbeaten in their last eight Ligue 2 games, while Montpellier have won five of their last nine in all competitions. Montpellier have won seven of the last 10 fixtures between them and are seventh, one point ahead of 11th-placed Rodez in the table.

M4 Mainz 05 vs Hamburger SV: Mainz have won four of their last six Bundesliga matches, while Hamburger are unbeaten in their last five. Hamburger won the last meeting 4-0 in October and are ninth with 25 points, four ahead of 14th-placed Mainz who have played a game more.

M5 Stade Brest vs Marseille: Brest are unbeaten in their last three Ligue 1 matches, while Marseille have avoided defeat in seven of their last 10 in all competitions. Marseille won the last meeting between them 3-0 in November and are fourth in Ligue 1 with a 13-point lead over 12th-placed Brest, but recently axed their manager.

M6 Derry City vs Bohemians: Both have four points after the first two games of the new Irish Premier Division season. In the last 15 meetings over four years, Derry have won eight times with four draws.
